

Sinclair
Broadcasting's
decision to force
their stations to
air an anti-Kerry
documentary days
before the election
is a clear example
of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free
of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. How does Sinclair's decision
to air this movie
serve to further democracy? It does not. It's more important that we see real people from
our own communities
and more substantive
news about issues
that matter, not be subjected to
blatantly partisan
politicking.

I urge you to stop
the airing of this movie, which is the duty of the FCC.
The fact that it is being shown without advertisements, is a testament to how
strongly partisan it
is. It is being
portrayed as real,
substantive and
usable news, and that is a lie. I feel that it is 100%
an "in-kind
contribution" to the Bush campaign, which
the public airwaves
should not be used
for. It is unfair
to the general public who has no control over what is aired.

Thank you.
